WHEN SUCCESS IS ACHIEVED | Daniel 4

CHEL GARRISON
Keynote Speaker

Chel (pronounced Shell) Garrison is a pastor's wife, mom, speaker, writer, Internationally Certified Life Coach, workshop facilitator and co-host of the podcast, "The Gritty Girls Podcast". All those roles are just avenues for how she lives out God's call on her life to help others thrive in the gifts and talents they have been given to steward.

Keynote Speaker

CHEL GARRISON

Partnering with an individual, church group, small business or team that is ready to grow, change, scale, or launch is when you will see her using all the gifts God has given her. Having the chance to encourage women to grow deep roots in their faith while chasing all God has laid before them is one of her truest joys.

If you were to have a view of her life outside of speaking and coaching, you'd see her favorite person on the planet is her best friend and husband of 25 years, Kiley Garrison. Together as a pastor's family, they have built a precious life and ministry side by side while raising three kids who are now young adults in college at Johnson University in Knoxville, Tennessee. She's more introverted than most people believe, but spend much time with her and you will realize she LOVES to laugh, she's in awe of God's infinite grace at work in her flawed life, and she doesn't do shallow well. Your health and spiritual wholeness are too important to waste on empty small talk. Chel is all in for the person ready to know Jesus better and live out His plan for her life.

Originally from southern Illinois, Abby Siler has been living in Nashville since 2017. After graduating from Lipscomb University in 2021, she has been refining and crafting her love and art of songwriting. She has a heart for the church- especially for youth, leading worship at various conferences and local churches. Her heart beats for the next generation, wanting to empower them with the love and grace of Jesus.

ABBY SILER
Speaker/Worship

Her songs are inspired through sounds of honesty, vulnerability, rawness of emotion and anchored in the love of Jesus. She has had the honor of writing with and alongside amazing artists and writers such as Leslie Jordan, Sarah Kroger, Leeland, Patrick Mayberry, and Mission House. She also has her own artist project, writing and releasing songs that come from her heart and story to help others and make them feel less alone.
